ANNOUNCEMENT OF CAFS ACHIEVEMENT AWARD

- Committee Chairman: Dr. Daniel Fung

We are pleased to announce that this year's Achievement Award is granted to Dr. Bor S. Luh (陸伯勳教授). Dr. Luh is now a Food Technologist at the University of California Agricultural Experiment Station, Davis, California. He received a B.S. degree in Chemistry from Chiao Tung University, and an M.S. in Food Science and Ph.D. in Agricultural Chemistry from the University of California, Berkeley.

Dr. Luh specializes in fruit and vegetable processing, nutritive value and storage stability of processed foods, and food chemistry and packaging of foods. He has published three books and over two hundred papers on the scientific and technological aspects of food processing. Dr. Luh is also one of the founders of CAFS, and served as its first president. Due to his contribution in food science and technology, he is not only known to the scientific society in the United States, but also known to the world. Please join me and the committee in congratulating Dr. Luh as the recipient of the 1984 Achievement Award.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF CAFS STUDENT AWARD

- Committee Chairman: George Chu

This year's Student Award is granted to Mr. Christopher C. Lai. He received his B.S. and M.S. degrees in Food Science from Kansas State University. Christopher is now pursuing a Ph.D. degree in Food Engineering and Packaging under the supervision of Professor Seymour G. Gilbert at Rutgers University. Christopher was recommended highly by his professor, not only because he has a good scholastic performance (Grade Point Average ~ 3.9), but also is actively involved in several professional associations. He was also selected for the American Egg Board Graduate Fellowship. Let us congratulate him on the CAFS Student Award and wish him success in his professional development.

NEW DIRECTORY

Editor - Peter Wan

I have received quite a few requests for changes, which means a great deal of progress has been made by our members in their careers. In order to make effective use of our Directory, the format will be changed slightly. We will drop the Home Address from our New Directory. Unless you prefer otherwise, we will use Business Addresses and include your home phone (if it is provided). More emphasis will be given to the members' disciplinary area and their job functions, such as the following example.

NAME & HOME PHONE	BUSINESS ADDRESS & PHONE	EDUCATION, SPECIALTY AND JOB FUNCTION
Chu, George C. 205/883-0411 朱正中	American Maize Co. Route 1, Box 84 Decatur, AL 35601 205/355-8815	B.S., 68, Chung-Hsing U. M.S., 71, Tuskegee Institute Quality Assurance Director Quality Assurance, R&D

If you would like to include more information in your specialty area or any other parts of the directory, please write to Peter J. Wan, 3333 N. Central Expressway, Richardson, TX 75080.
